In the last issue of the MV Mag, we explored how the adult industry is changing. Technology has introduced disruptions that now allow ambitious amateurs to dethrone incumbent stars. Change is happening all across the industry.

And in conjunction, the MV Mag also underwent a major overhaul. We introduced new sections, and changed existing ones, because experimentation is not just desired, but necessary. Constantly striving for something new and innovating on what has been done is how we obtain progress, no matter what domain it is.

The MV Mag stands at the crossroad of two seemingly different, yet very similar domains: sex, and art. Both require novelty and excitement to thrive. They both thirst for passionate risk taking. The marriage of these two complementary forces is at the heart of what we attempt to achieve for each of our issues, and this issue is no different. As we add more new features to our magazine, we persistently continue to explore and venture into uncertainty in search of greatness yet unknown.

So we present you, the Summer Ink Issue. Summer is a season when new things are born. A season of passion, of energy, of bold strides and pursuit of excitement. Tattoos were a category of art once thought to be taboo. Now they are one of the most beloved forms of creative expression.

Just as how tattoos rose to prominence through passion for creativity, we are always reminded that we must never forget to be bold.

Welcome to MV Mag No. 9.

Get Wet, get Wild, and get Tatted.

Sarah Jessie

“I’m a real wildflower, hippy, stoner, rocker, chick.”

1. As an industry icon, what is your perception of new industry trends such as camgirls?

I think it’s really necessary now more than ever to brand yourself in any industry that you’re in so I think that camming is actually a great way to interact with fans and make money too, so why not?

2. What are your favorite things about the sunny weather?

My all time favorite thing about summer and the sun is getting to wear little to no clothes! I would rather be naked all day everyday than have to wear clothes.

3. How do you manage to keep yourself looking so fit and fresh?

I work out every single day. I’m always at the gym and I love to get outside and hike and explore. Also, my diet is vegan so I’m super healthy too!

4. What’s your ideal summer weekend?

I think if I had an ideal way to spend a summer weekend it would taking a little weekend vacay. However, the beach is always fun too! And summer festivals are a must because I love music!

5. When it comes to vacation destinations, where is your preferred spot?

I’ve been to so many places in the world, but Hawaii is and always has been my favorite. It is just so beautiful and the vibe is really amazing.

6. Out of all the tattoos that you have, which is your favorite?

I have a new one that says “wildflower” on my side. It’s tiny but I think it totally describes me. I’m a real wildflower, hippy, stoner, rocker, chick.

7. What outdoor activities do you love to do the most?

I would have to say hiking because there's nothing better than a beautiful scenery.

8. Why do you think most people are hornier when the weather is hot?

It's for sure because everyone is wearing less clothing!

9. Do you think having ink and the season of summer are somehow related?

Of course, going back to less clothing it's easier to show off your ink!

10. What are the top qualities you look for in a man?

When I think of the perfect man, I think funny, respectful of my job, loves sex (I think every man does), knows how to make me feel special, spontaneous, adventurous, and most importantly driven to succeed.

11. Do you have any specific or unexpected sexual turn-ons or likes?

I think unexpected sex in general is always fun! Getting so horny you just have to fuck wherever you are because you can't help it is my ultimate turn-on!

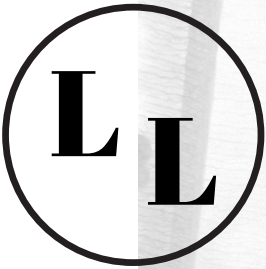

12. You and Lily Lane ended up having some wild fun in the bathroom during your scene with MV. What was it like getting to play with another tattooed beauty?

It was sooo hot and sexy. There's so much to look at with tattoos, big tits and a nice booty getting all oiled up in the shower. I am so excited to launch the photos and videos! I hope all my fans enjoy it as much as I did!

“you just have to fuck wherever you are because you can't help it...”

Lily Lane

“you are the only person you can count on. Be brave and have a voice.”

MV 1. As an accomplished adult performer, if you could change one thing in the industry, what would it be and why?

LL Hmm.... believe it or not, tattoos are still not fully accepted, so I would have to say that I would love to have tattoos be less frowned upon in the industry. That would be nice to see!

2. You have a very dominant persona. Did you always have a strong personality? How did you end up becoming such a force of nature?

I've always been this way! I guess I've always known what I want and I just go for it. You have to realize that you are the only person you can count on. Be brave and have a voice.

3. What are your favorite type of scenes to shoot when it comes to type, positions, costars, etc.

Honestly the more male performers, the better! I really do love DP (double penetration) scenes. It's hard to explain but it's such a fun feeling!

4. If you were going on a sexy summer picnic with another pornstar, who would you want to go with and what would you guys bring?

I would definitely choose Joanna Angel! She's been a very good friend to me and I love and truly appreciate her. Just the two of us eating some yummy food, having some refreshing drinks and maybe lay out by a pool? Or on second thought maybe we would kidnap some other hot babes to join us!

5. What's your favorite thing to do in summer?

I love going to the beach! Going outside, maybe on a road trip. You know, just getting away from reality and having some fun is what I enjoy the most!

6. Are there any special meanings behind your tattoos?

Surprisingly, no! It was kind of just me coming up with ideas and deciding that they would look cool as tattoos. Not really deep meaning in any of them but I love them.

7. What instructions would you give to another girl who wants to learn how to squirt but can't?

I would say hydrate! Like hydrate hydrate hydrate! I normally drink lots of Pedialyte. It helps. But having another person that knows what they're doing also def helps!

8. What's your ideal summer vacation plan?

I would definitely choose to go somewhere tropical. I love the sun and I love laying out in it. Anywhere that I can do those things and relax in the sunshine would be perfect!

9. How did you decide to start getting tattooed? When was your first one?

I got my first tattoo on my 18th birthday. I remember because prior to that, I always said I would never get a tattoo and somehow that changed along the course of my lifetime! Haha! I don't even remember how I came to the decision to be honest, but here we are!

10. Do you have any recommendations to keep your tattoos safe during this season?

Yes! Stay out of the sun! Or, if you must be in the sun, use sunscreen and when you can, try to cover them up!

11. Is there something you enjoy sexually that you would consider kinky or wild?

Hmmm! I love love love licking buttholes hahaha! And I love squirting all over the place. I also really love being choked and slapped while getting fucked. Does that count?

12. What was it like getting to cum together with Sarah Jessie after your day of fun in the sun?

Omg it was amazing! She's such a hot sexy little thing! We had such a fun time playing side by side and we both came so hard! I would def do it again in a heartbeat!

Your

Tattoos

Make You

Sexier

The origin of the word Tattoo comes from the Polynesian word 'tatau', which means 'to write'. As such, throughout history people have used tattoos as a message. For example, in Borneo women tattooed symbols on their forearms to indicate what skills they had, which indicated their value as marriage material.

Nowadays, tattoos are a lot less functional and more recreational. Otherwise, it would mean that everyone with a flower tattoo are great gardeners (or florists), and that's probably not the case. Yet, it seems that people still do use tattoos as some kind of a visual hint. Which is understandable. Out of the five senses, sight is by far the sense that people rely on the most. We are accustomed to making judgments and decisions based on visual cues. Think of traffic lights. Think of social media notifications.

For example. A French study from 2013 found that women with tattoos were approached by men almost three times as more than those without. Now why is that? Are tattoos some kind of a dude-magnet? Do they emit some type of sound wave that hypnotizes guys into approaching women? Though attraction between two people is a complicated thing to describe, maybe there are certain things about tattoos that make a woman seem more attractive.

Like how people with tattoos have more confidence. A 2011 study revealed that after getting tattoos, women and men "had significantly lower appearance anxiety and dissatisfaction... and significantly higher body appreciation, distinctive appearance investment, self-ascribed uniqueness, and self-esteem." All of this meaning that people with tattoos are more likely to exude confidence, and have less anxiety about their appearance.

They are also natural conversation starters. It's pretty certain that tattooed people are tired of hearing "did that hurt?" but it nonetheless enables someone to find a way to break ice, and there are so many other things one could ask about. "What's the meaning?" "Why did you get it?" "When did you get it?" The list goes on.

“Are tattoos some kind of a dude-magnet?”

Also, tattoos are often signs of adventurousness. Beside all the studies that show that individuals with tattoos are more risk-taking, tattoos are not something easy for people to get into. They hurt, they’re permanent, and they can turn out pretty bad sometimes. So to actually get a tattoo would be that you’re willing to bear the pain, and that you won’t have much regrets. Moreover, it means that you’re very sure of yourself. You dive into the unknown without fear.

Let’s summarize then. A confident woman, who is adventurous, and is easier to talk to. You bet guys would say ‘hell yes’.

So this summer, make sure to flaunt those tattoos. Let that ink breathe! Because your body art is an expression of who you really are, and it’d be a shame if you didn’t let people see you in your fullest.

Women In Control: It's Time To Change Our Views

Whenever Howard Stern gets a porn star to come on his show, he always asks them about whether they had a history of sexual abuse. Should this type of question be thrown at anyone else, it would stir controversy. But in the case of adult performers, this question becomes almost a necessary item. It is seen as a tacit requirement to understand the porn star.

This is the question that people have grappled with since as far back as the Ancient Mesopotamian times. Why would women sell their sexuality? A series of reasons often accompany these questions. Money, naivete, and sexual abuse. These and many others all singularly point to one conclusion: it's not their fault. They've come into the industry because they had no other choice, or that they were tricked into it.

And it is this type of justification that is the most damaging. Because when you admit that something is not somebody's fault, you also are layering that over a more odious notion. That the person has no control. This is the general perception that the public lays out on the industry.

This is all in spite of the reasons for such assumptions being false. For instance, as told above, there is indeed a prevalent assumption that adult performers are significantly more likely to have had a history of sexual abuse. They even have an academic term for this: the "Damaged Goods Hypothesis".

This assumption has already been disproven scientifically. A 2012 study that was published in the Journal of Sex Research has shown that between performers and non-performers (women with non-adult occupations across all industries) almost have no difference in their likelihood of a history of sexual abuse. In fact, porn performers are more likely to reveal those things because people are more likely to ask them about the subject. Female accountants don't often get asked if they've been sexually abused (despite the equal likelihood).

Furthermore, performers were also found to be enjoying sex more, had higher levels of self-esteem, and social support. They were also more likely to experiment, including sexual experiences and drug use.

“ Someone who is adventurous, enjoys sex, and is not ashamed of her sexuality ”

So, like any other jobs, perhaps successful adult performers just have a better 'career-fit' to the industry. Someone who is adventurous, enjoys sex, and is not ashamed of her sexuality, would be much better suited to being a performer in the industry, and be good at it. Is that not a more natural course than thinking that the person has some debilitating past that pushed them down a certain path?

But that's where society turns vicious. We can't have women doing that, because that is against our core belief apparently. For a long time, commodification of sexuality has been portrayed by general society as sin, like the biblical character Mary Magdalene, who only became a ‘good’ woman after she repented and sought forgiveness for her past.

So the “Damaged Goods Hypothesis” still sticks, and is accepted more as a fact than a hypothesis by the masses. The women become passed off as broken and in need of rescue. That is of course, until technology arrived to the scene.

The first camgirl was Jennifer Ringley, otherwise known as the person behind Jennicam. Since the public was introduced to her life-casting through a webcam in 1996, many have followed suit. Streaming technology drastically improved. Video upload systems became more sophisticated but simplified. What needed an entire company to do, it became possible for an individual to do.

And thanks to such progress, the modern day landscape of pornography is quite different, with all sorts of independent players producing content from anywhere with anything. The choices offered to potential industry newcomers are becoming more numerous. Camgirls are entertaining thousands every night from the comfort and safety of their own homes. Sexually active couples are selling amateur porn through video sites. They decide what to do, when to do it, how to do it, and even why they do it. And it’s that last part that actually counts. With independence comes a clear ‘why’. They’re in control. What was before a suspected truth, now increasingly became an evident statement. It became clearer that in fact, women do go into the porn industry because they want to.

Which is why it is particularly unsettling, when the mainstream culture’s reaction to this wave is to guide the narrative in reverse, and keep it in line with the existing notion. It wants to somehow prove that it doesn’t matter what technology they use, what changes occur. That women still have no control over their actions in the porn industry.

Take for instance the documentaries where amateur porn is portrayed as a trap that leads women into a downward spiral. It aligns with the pre-existing notion, and it does not deviate from what we already assume about the porn industry.

What should be our freedom, we are voluntarily tearing it down for a very purist notion of what sexuality should be. The modern age of amateur pornography is liberation. It cuts out the middlemen, and allows people to take more control of their own business, their own sexuality. There is no producer or an agent forcing or coercing them into doing something they don’t want to do because ‘it will help their career’.

“ This is change. This is progress ”

Yet we remain sexual Luddites, actively resist change. Actively resist the fact that there are women out there happily selling sexuality and they are completely aware and in control of what they are doing.

In the age of feminism, we still are very weary of women selling sex, and that is ultimately the problem. When we demean the notion of a woman selling sex, we imply that women are not in ownership of their bodies, that they are not in possession of their sense of sexuality. As important as it is for a woman to say 'no' to sex, it is as important for us to acknowledge that they can say 'yes' to sex. That they can use sex however they want to.

And that may be what actually scares us. That we are afraid to consider the fact that we are facing mature, intelligent women, making conscious decisions, who take charge of their own careers, and seize the opportunity as they see fit. We are afraid of Mary Magdalene never turning to the 'light', and even more so because it contests our outward beliefs about sexuality, despite the fact that we are all internally potential consumers of what these women produce.

“How can anyone do sexual acts in front of the camera for money? -> They must have no self-respect. -> Because they are mentally damaged. -> Because they were probably abused or experienced some kind of trauma that degraded their self-worth.”

It is easy to think along the line of the above logic, and it is even easier to push this notion because it is what is generally accepted. However, people must remember that the thinking laid out above involves heavy amount of assumptions that are all potentially unfounded.

What it boils down to is that we are the ones that are limiting our own evolution. Independent sex workers such as camgirls have carved out an industry of their own that consists of billions. And to all that say this points to corruption of society, it is not. This is change. This is progress. We need to adapt and shift our mindsets, just as how women have adapted to the industry.

Isaac Asimov, a famous science fiction writer and professor, has once said this:

“Your assumptions are your windows on the world. Scrub them off every once in awhile, or the light won't come in.”

I'm sure we can all agree. We all need some light in our lives.

FVCK ME

FEATURING

Joanna Angel

It's finally summer. You've been waiting for the weather to brighten your days and your mood, so you are excited to begin the season the best way possible and make it last! It's your first shoot this June and as a pornstar, even when you have to work, it's really exciting! You show up early on set to prep for today's shoot. You are shooting with a sexy girl who is new in the industry and can't wait to meet her. She is a cute petite brunette with lots of tattoos so you know she will be a perfect fit with you!

MV 1

You begin shooting your scene and you can tell by her reactions that she is thoroughly enjoying herself. Every time she moans it sends your mind into a frenzy. You don't normally fantasize about the girls you work with, but if you had a type, she was it. You:

✓ A Keep the fact that she is turning you on a secret at least until after the shoot so that there is no added tension between you.

B Let her know that she is doing great and that you know people are going to love it because you love it already. Make sure she knows that you are on her radar.

JA Secrets are way more fun!

MV 2

Every time the director yells "cut" she looks at you and you lock eyes. It's no secret you have a connection and she keeps dropping hints that she is into girls more than guys, so you feel pretty good about the situation. You are thinking about:

✓ A Bringing her home. You want to see how wild she gets off camera and show her how skilled you are at making girls cum.

B Going out for drinks after the shoot to unwind and hopefully discuss more intimate topics with her. You already think she is fuckable, but you want to be able to connect with her emotionally too.

Now it is her turn to see what my years of experience have taught me; and will pleasure her =)

MV 3

The shoot is complete. You guys clean up and invite both her and the photographer's assistant (another cute girl) out for dinner and drinks. At the bistro, you begin discussing your past experiences, and about sexual partners. You can't help but notice the assistant staring at her cleavage as she stands to go use the restroom so while she is in there, you take the opportunity and ask the assistant what she thinks of her and she confesses fantasizing about her as well. You:

A Realize that with both of you wanting her, there is an opportunity for a threesome. Double the fun. What's better than a 3 girl fuck fest?

✓ B Want to get out of this place as soon as you can so you can invite them back to your house for some late night fun.

Dinner and drinks can be had anytime! Let's not pass this opportunity up, right?

MV 4

She returns from the bathroom and continues to flirt with you. She is definitely not shy anymore as just a couple of cognac shots later, you pay the tab and she turns around and asks if you guys are both up for some naughty playtime. You never slept with someone you worked with off camera before but you only live once, so without hesitation you agree and before you know it the 3 of you are making out in the back of a cab pulling up to your apartment. Things escalated pretty quickly but you know this is going to end great. You are all naked in the shower and you have both hands busy playing with their pussies. You:

A Pull out your best moves and make them cum for the first time, but it won't be the last because your next plan is to head to the bedroom where your toy box is. It's strap-on time!

✓ B Secretly hope one of them is a squirter so that when you get to the strap-ons in the bedroom, this can be the messy, hot threesome you've been dreaming of!

Luckily, laundry day is tomorrow, so this bed is dying to get soaked!

MV 5

It's almost midnight and you guys have been playing with each other for almost 2 hours, it turns out they are both squirters and your bed is more like a waterpark at this point. They are taking turns cumming on each other and everyone's hair and faces are drenched in yummy pussy juices. You take turns fucking them with your biggest dildo while they eat each other out and it's the hottest assembly line you've seen. You:

✓ A tell them they have had enough fun and make them both focus on you to end this threesome with a bang. They begin to work on you together, and you can't wait to cum for them!

B continue to fuck them just right so they remember how talented you are and leave here never forgetting it!

I think it is totally my turn now, wouldn't you all agree?

MV 6

You lay there spent as all three of you are left without energy, and you ask them if they would like to shower before they leave. They agree since together you all created something similar to a hurricane. They wash up and are getting ready to leave. You give them hugs goodbye and exchange phone numbers with them to keep in touch. You know that next time she's in town she will be ringing your phone off the hook. After bidding farewell, you mix yourself a goodnight drink to unwind and relax. You are thinking:

A About how much fun you've had and how you really hope to repeat it all again someday soon!

✓ B Of how you're going to tell your husband about what happened here while he was away. You are a naughty girl, but you're sure he will love it!

*He will love to hear a tale like this. Let's hope he believes me! *wink

WITH

Missy Martinez

ManyVids just got a whole lot hotter with Missy Martinez! We recently welcomed this sexy Latina to MV, and now the acclaimed adult film star is a part of the MV Family!

Like many models, she was admittedly a bit nervous about uploading to the platform, but soon enough she found out how easy it is to add vids on MV.

"Uploading several vids to my profile this morning! I have to say how pleased I am at how easy it is to use and upload vids. I was intimidated at the idea but I'm completely blown away!" She said.

Moreover, we had the opportunity to shoot her in LA, and we were also able to ask her some questions to help us get to know her better. And we can definitely tell you, she is as funny as she is sexy.

"Massages melt me and turn me into putty.
Sexual, large breasted putty"

MY 1. How did you start your career in porn?

M I went to a convention years ago with my at the time boyfriend. We went because we were fans of porn and watched it together. Everyone kept coming up to me to ask me for my photo (I had big boobs and a dress on) so people assumed I was a performer. I did some research, looked into it and 8 years later I'm still here!

2. What gets you going sexually? What turns you on the most?

Touch! Massages melt me and turn me into putty. Sexual, large breasted putty.

3. If you could turn any sexual fantasy scenario into a vid, what would it be?

I've always wanted to have sex in a sauna. Something about the steam and glistening bodies is just such a turn on. I can't imagine the camera damage though.

4. If you could go on a date with any superhero, who would it be, and why?

Technically he's an "anti-hero" but it would definitely be Deadpool. I'd give him Maximum Effort!

5. What's your favorite smell/scent?

The smell of freshly baked cinnamon rolls has occasionally made my vagina moist.

6. What season of the year sums up your personality best and why?

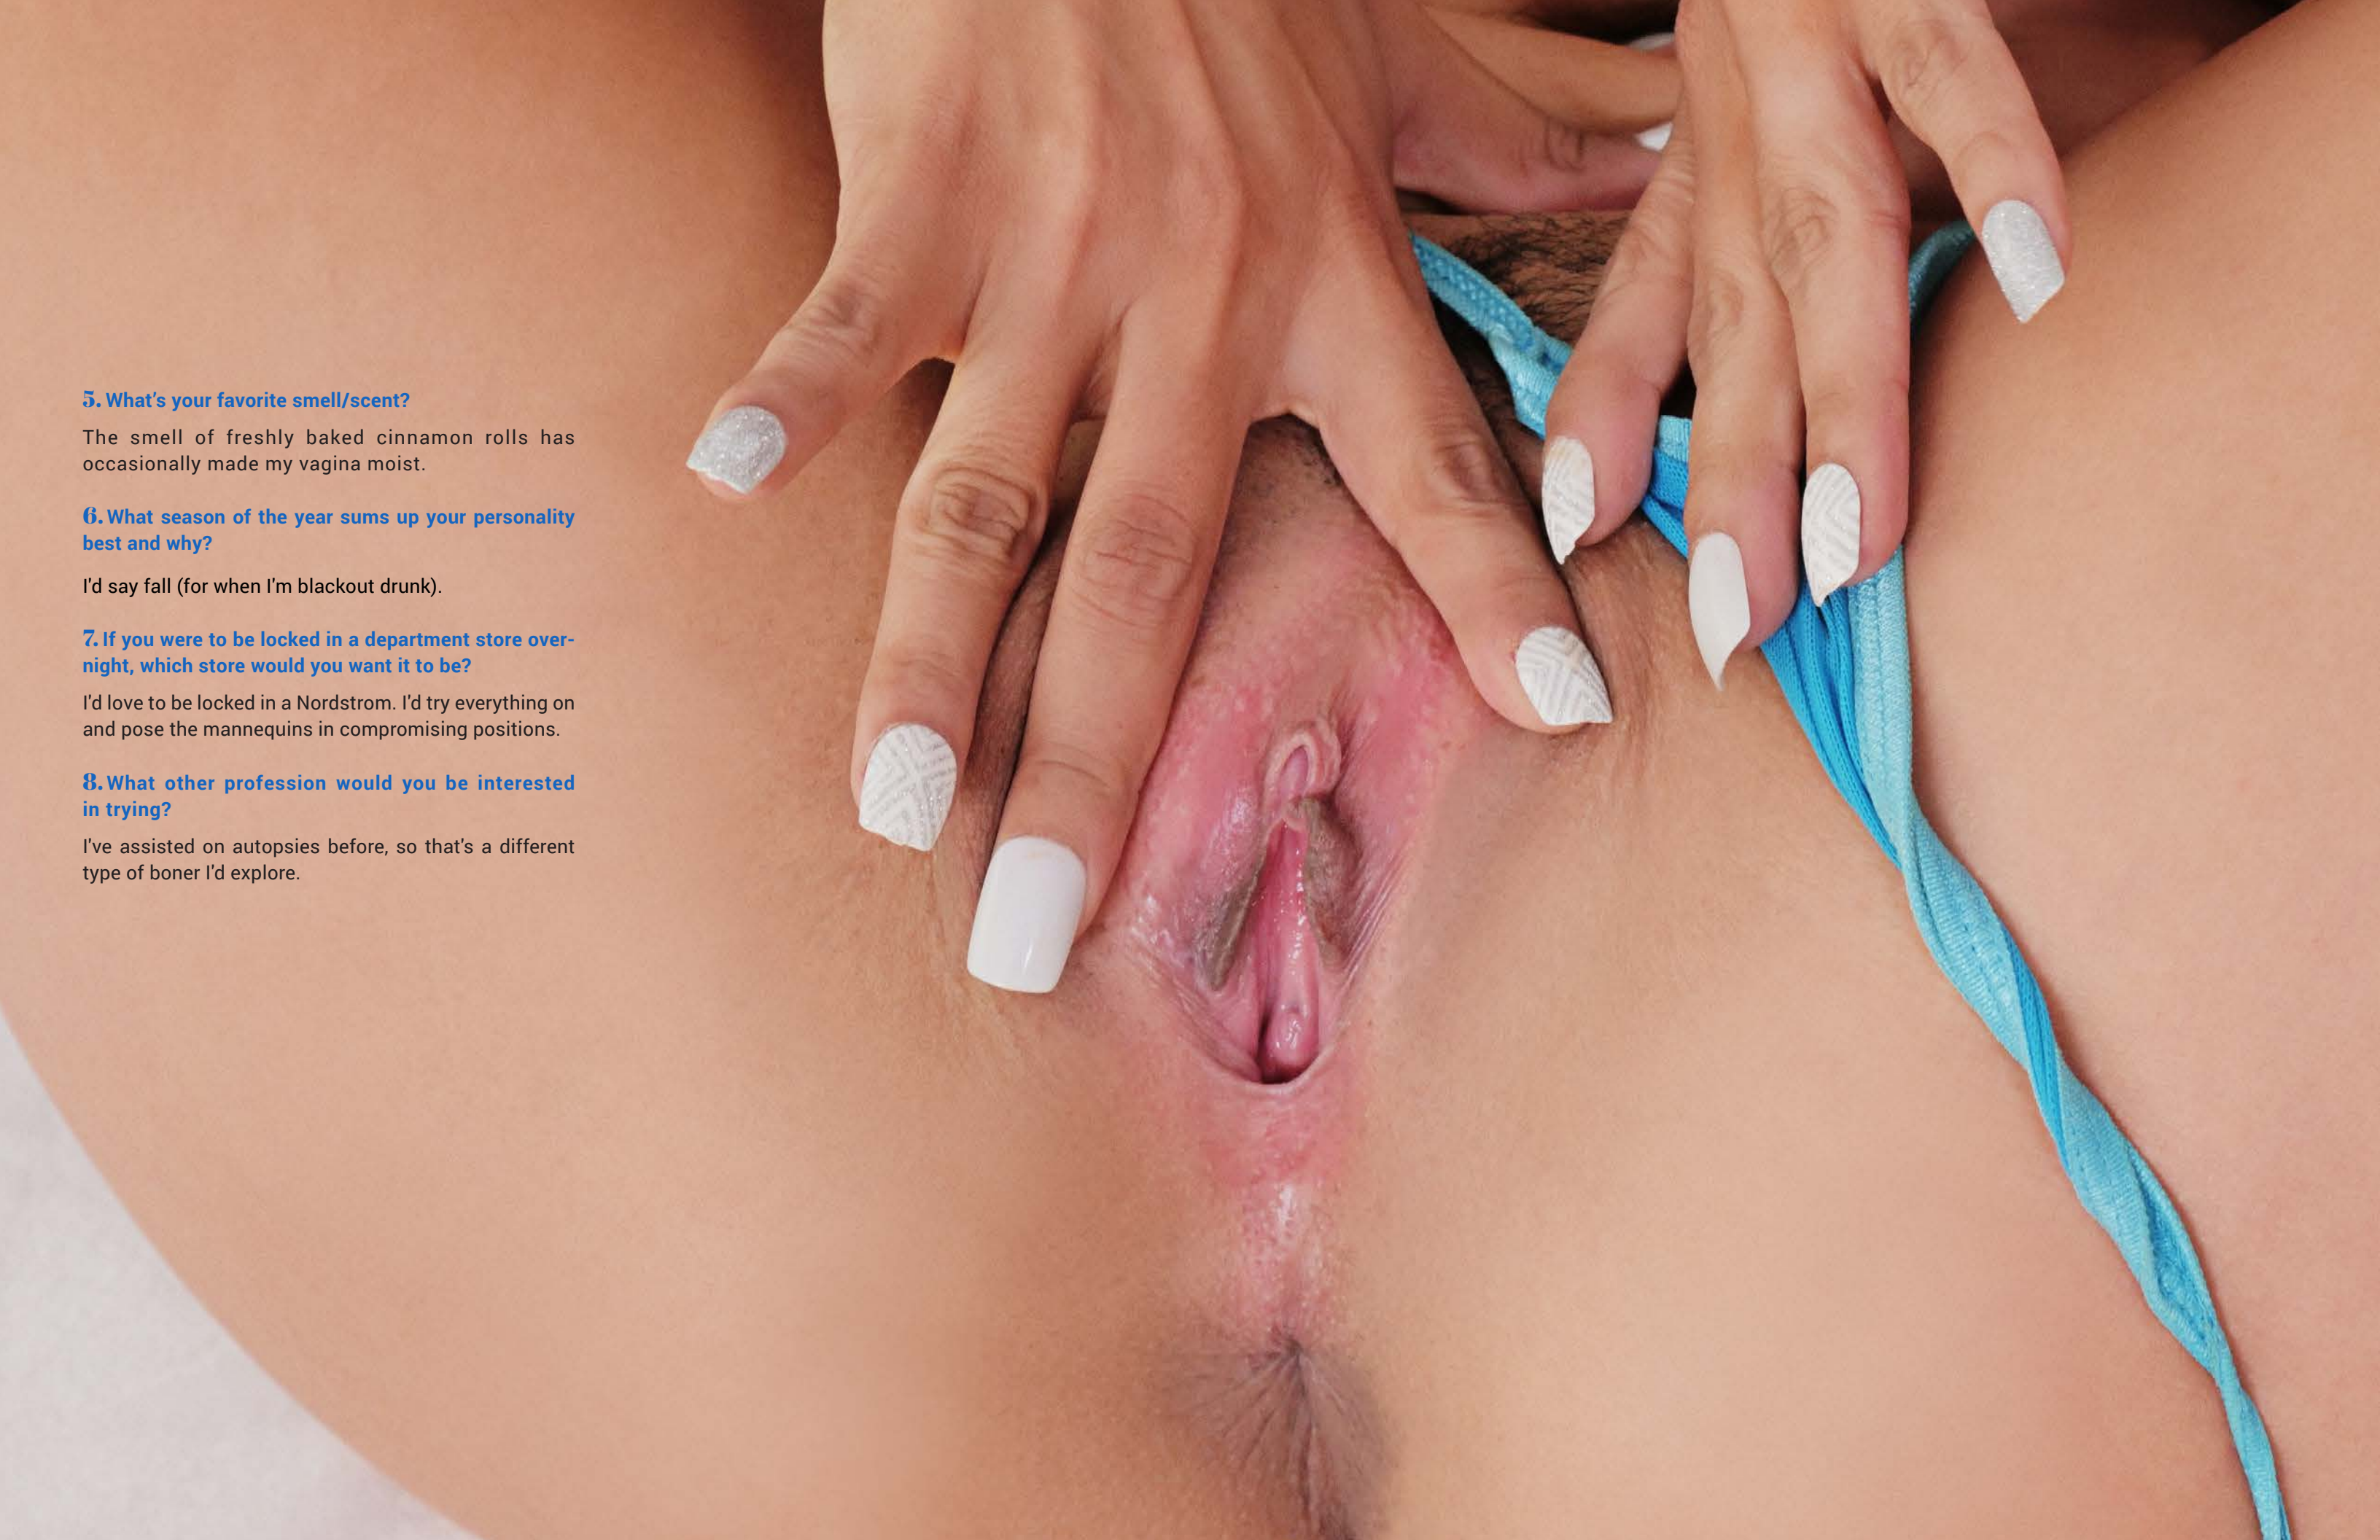

I'd say fall (for when I'm blackout drunk).

7. If you were to be locked in a department store overnight, which store would you want it to be?

I'd love to be locked in a Nordstrom. I'd try everything on and pose the mannequins in compromising positions.

8. What other profession would you be interested in trying?

I've assisted on autopsies before, so that's a different type of boner I'd explore.

9. What motivated you to join ManyVids?

My contract with my website was up and MV became highly recommended. I love how it's basically a 1-stop shop for everything Missy that my fans could ever want!

10. What kind of content can your fans expect to see on ManyVids?

I have 3 years of previously shot solos and GG scenes that I'll be putting up weekly PLUS I'm already working on NEW vids. I'll also be dipping my toe into the fetish world, so stay tuned!

You can find her vids now on her ManyVids profile at MissyMartinez.ManyVids.com
Let's make sure to give Missy a warm welcome to MV in the comments below!
